

Conducting Exams with Different Sets and Create Hall Tickets with QR Code

The application titled “Conducting exams with different sets and Create Hall Tickets with QR Code” is aimed to conduct examinations in an efficient manner without time wasting for the checking of paper, and provide results. The main objective of our application to attempt the exam, with in a particular time period, and provide new security features, and provide previous papers to candidates. And providing to the examination hall tickets by help of QR codes, this hall tickets can be used at examination login session

Domain: Java / Web Applications

Technology: MATLAB